NV Energy Honored for Being Top United Way of Northern Nevada and the Sierra Business Supporter in 2013-14

Reno, Nev. — United Way of Northern Nevada and the Sierra (UWNNS) has announced that NV Energy was the non-profit's top supporter from money raised during its workplace giving campaign in 2013-14. United Parcel Service (UPS) had held this honor for the previous two years. NV Energy raised more than $245,000 this past fall.

UWNNS honored NV Energy with a special certificate of appreciation at a celebration on Tuesday, Feb. 4. The award was presented to the NV Energy campaign chairs, Jim Lyle, Team Leader Warehouse Operations and Luanne Oroszi, Manager, Ethics and Corporate Compliance.

“We very much appreciate the hard work and support from the NV Energy employees, and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 1245, in helping to make this a better community,” said Karen Barsell, chief executive officer and president of UWNNS. “We would also like to acknowledge all of the other companies throughout northern Nevada that have and currently are conducting workplace giving campaigns. It is because of these organizations and their employees that we can help provide for the needs of the community.”
